Unique Piece

This project arose from the creation of a restaurant that seemingly had no chairs. A polished iron prism hides two comfortable chairs within it which only emerge from their covering when in use. The rest of the time the form remains an essential sculpture that aims to go unperceived, concealing its utilitarian function.

MSubiràs

MSubiràs (Olot, Girona). His philosophy revolves around function plus emotion, in a kind of constructive essentialism, playing with expressiveness, naturalness, refinement, technology, and sustainability.

MSubiràs has created a multidisciplinary creative space principally related to architecture, design, and interior design. Formed by a network of people from different disciplines such as architecture, engineering, design, art, advertising, and more in which creativity becomes the meeting point.
