Limited edition of unique pieces

Porcelain Wrap is a limited series of provocative sculptural vases with a pure aesthetic that responds to the opportunities in the making process. This series contrasts the protective and disposable texture of bubble wrap with the delicate preciousness of porcelain resulting in irresistibly tactile pieces. The series of vases gives a preciousness to a texture designed for protection and this contradiction results in dynamic and often uneasy outcomes.

Essaiworks

Is a creative collaborative project by Rosa Cortiella, Francesc Gasch and Darragh Casey. Coming from the French word 'essai' to trial or experiment, the 3 came together with an open and experimental approach to the tactility of clay in search of new creative directions and outcomes. Their experimental hands-on process pushes in new directions for ceramic tableware resulting in products that create conversation and resist everyday utility. Porcelain Wrap is the first series of this essai.works collaboration.
